

REAL VOCABULARY AT THE GAS STATION SCRIPT

QUESTION/ANSWER

[at the cash register inside]

CASHIER: What can I get for you today?

YOU: I'll get ten on two. [hands 10$ to cashier]

CASHIER: Alright, ten dollars on pump two... Great, you're all set. Do you want your receipt?

YOU: No, I'm good. Also, can I get some help to check the tire pressure?

CASHIER: Sure thing. I'll send someone out in a sec.

YOU: Thanks, I'll be outside.

[with "frentista", attendant]

ATTENDANT: What'll it be today, ma'am?

YOU: Ten dollars worth of unleaded, please. Here's the key to the tank.

ATTENDANT: Coming right up... Should I take a look at the oil for you today?

YOU: That would be fantastic, and could you get the windshield, too?

ATTENDANT: Sure thing. Would you open the hood for me? There's a lever right inside there.

YOU: Oh, yeah, of course. Just a sec.

....

ATTENDANT: Okay, ma'am, you should be all set. That'll be ten dollars.

YOU: Here you are. Keep the change.

ATTENDANT: Thanks. You take care now. Have a great day!

YOU: You too. Take care!
