

FUTURE PERFECT (GRAMMAR)

Events finished by a certain time in the future:

The Future Perfect Tense refers to a completed action in the future.

• By the time you read this. I will have left.

We use the future perfect form when we look back to the past from a point in the future. We usually use a time phrase, for example by tomorrow, for three years:

- Do you think she'll have seen the doctor by four o'clock?
- Next month my parents will have been together for thirty years.
- At the end of this month, they will have been in their house for one year.
- Next month I will have worked for the company for six years.
- I think they'll have got there by six o'clock.
- Won't she have retired by the end of the year? (more common than Will she not have retired?)

MUST: USES

We use will/shall + have + the -ed form of the verb.

We use shall only for future time reference with I and we. Shall is more formal than will.
